

Coward of the County

GeoCache released in Taliaferro County

The eight geocache in the Taliaferro County Historical Society's Movies Mania Geocache Series was just released. The Coward of the County geocache was created by Charles Greene.

The movie Coward of the County was made in 1981. In Coward of the County, a teenage pacifist must deal with life at home during World War II. Tommy played by Fredric Lehne, made a deathbed promise to his father who went to prison, for killing a man in a fight, to refrain from striking anyone. Now Tommy must deal with his neighbors going off to war and worse yet the gang rape of his wife to be. Tommy's Uncle is played by Kenny Rogers.

The location of the Coward of the County geocache is neither historical or directly related to the movie. But, like Kenny Rogers at the time of the movie is a relative unknown location. This movie became a launching point for Kenny Rogers popularity at the time. Kenny plays Uncle Matthew, a preacher, who has his faults. As a person who admits to past mistakes, learns from them, and then passes on these lessons, this comes close to Mr Rogers real personality. This is a family movie about growing up with principles.. There is much to enjoy in the movie, the characters are well developed, and include the following Taliaferro County residents; Sam, Lois, Charles, Sandra, Jon, Mary Jane and Marcus Greene, Joy Wood, Chad Brown, Kathleen Mitchell, George Jackson, Bill Specth, Robert Morris, James and Melanie Finney and Bill Fouche.
